

EDITORIAL

The Winter Issue 2022 of the Studies in Humanities and Social Sciences, like the previous Issues, includes articles in History, Economics, Geography, English Literature, Philosophy, Anthropology and Cultural History. The papers in this Issue cover a wide range of topics in Humanities and Social Sciences. We hope the readers would appreciate the scholarly effort of the authors to throw light on issues dealt with in the papers concerned.

We are sorry that the Summer Issue of the journal could not be printed and distributed on time due to some technical problems relating to printing. However, the journal was made available online in the IAS website.

As before, this time also we had received many papers for publication, but only a few could find place in this Issue on account of limitation of space. Many papers could not meet standards of the journal and therefore could not find a place .

We request the prospective contributors to keep in mind the requirements of the journal while sending their submissions.

We thank the Director, Secretary and Publication Officer of the IAS and the members of the Editorial Board for their help in making the publication of the journal possible. We also thank Ms. Sangeeta for her constant help in coordinating the publication of the journal.
